The Baptism of Our Lord

"John tried to prevent him, saying, 'I need to be baptized by you, yet you are coming to me?'"

Matthew 3:14

The Catholic Catechism states that "Jesus' immersion in the water is a sign for all human beings of the need to die to themselves to do God's will." In other words, as baptized Catholics, there is only one gift that we need to give to Jesus – the gift of ourselves. Surrender yourself to God, place your trust in Him and allow the Holy Spirit to work through you for the greater glory of God.

Please join the Archdiocesan Reverence for Life Commission for coffee, a simple supper, and conversation on Tuesday, Jan 20th at 5:30 pm at St. Anne's Parish in Regina. We will end at 7:00 with Mass if you can stay.

The Reverence for Life Commission is inviting you so that we can hear from you about what is happening in your pro-life networks and communities (CWL, Social Justice groups, etc.) and everyday lives. This will be a time to share the work, successes, challenges, and hopes that we have for the prolife movement. There will also be a chance to hear about what the Archdiocesan Reverence for Life Commission has been up to over the last 11 years. This gathering will help the commission learn where we can best put our efforts to come alongside what you are already doing in your communities. For more information or if you have questions, please contact Tashia Toupin at ttoupin@archregina.sk.ca.

2026 De Margerie Lectures on Christian Reconciliation and Unity

"Christian Martyrdom and the Unity of the Church," a two-lecture series with Dr. Jeremy Bergen.

When Pope Francis heard about the 21 Copts killed by ISIS in Libya in 2015, he said this: "It makes no difference whether they be Catholics, Orthodox, Copts, or Protestants. They are Christians!... Their blood confesses Christ." He was tapping into a powerful intuition. There is something in the stories of Christian martyrs—both those killed centuries ago and those killed much more recently—that might inspire, instruct, and draw together otherwise divided Christians.

In the first lecture, we examine the basic claim that a history of martyrdom serves as a resource for ecumenism. By exploring the stories and legacies of some particular martyrs, we can see how unity and solidarity might be expressed, but also some of the challenges and tensions. In the second lecture, we look at one major barrier—the history of Christians killing Christians. During the Reformation, for example, the execution of fellow Christians was justified on theological grounds, and some of those killed are honoured as martyrs by some churches. How do we reckon with this history in ways that do justice to the past, and promote reconciliation and unity in the future?

- Lecture 2: Christians Killing Christians: Reconciling Violent Pasts and Conflicting Martyrdoms

We look at one major barrier — the history of Christians killing Christians. During the Reformation, the execution of fellow Christians was justified on theological grounds, and some of those killed are honoured as martyrs by some churches. How do we reckon with this history in ways that do justice to the past, and promote reconciliation and unity in the future?
